MAHARAJA'S COLLEGE,

MYSORE.

Dated 1st [illegible]er 1915.

Dear Sir,

Herewith I send the abstract list of suggestions. It is not possible to give reference to pages until the report is printed; reference to the typed copy would not be of any use, as the copy is here.

Yours sincerely,

C. R. Reddy

F. C. D'Souza, Esq.,

Bangalore.

E D U C A T I O N.

1. Reform of Universities on the lines already indicated in my various notes on the University Scheme.

2. Organisation of the Extension system.

3. Private peoples or officials in Government departments to be allowed to lecture at the University for a small salary, if of approved qualifications on their special subjects.

4. Compulsory physical or vocational education throughout the entire educational ~~career~~ course including college departments.

5. Preventing the strain on mind and body by largely substituting vernacular for English.

6. More Local Autonomy in Education, in which case, the schools in each Taluq or District should be placed under specially elected local Educational Boards, and not under the general District and Taluq Boards.

7. The correlation of museums with school work.

8. Medical care of school children and more attention to School hygiene.

9. Institution of departments of social study and public and municipal administration in the Universities.

10. Converting our present schools into composite institutions, doing Evening and Day work and giving instruction in both general and vocational education on the model of the Borough Schools in London.

11. Making teaching an optional branch in the School-Final, Intermediate, and B.A., courses.

12. Employment of supervising teachers in each taluq

to improve the quality of Elementary Teachers and also for vocational subjects like needle-work, and Domestic Science.

13. Instituting different grades of normal training, covering periods of different length, so that short-period trained men may be available for appointments as teachers in the lower schools.

14. Making vocational training a compulsory course in the curricula for normal [illegible] all grades.

15. Preparing books on the various courses to be taught in the Elementary and Lower Secondary grades and for vocational and commercial purposes with special reference to Mysore conditions.

16. A general reform of schools on the model of what has been done in the Philippines which is based on such principles as early specialisation and the opening of courses for teaching, farming, business, house-keeping and house-hold arts right from the Lower Secondary grades.

17. Holding vacation assemblies of teachers and treating attendance at these assemblies as duty entitling teachers to Privilege leave on full pay.

18. Starting by private people of a Loan Fund to aid students. The interest charged should be small, but the students must be required to pay back when they begin to earn their livelihood so as to discourage pauperisation.

19. Utilisation of some of the properties of Mutts and temples for purposes of education.

20. Starting associations for physical culture.

21. Travelling Technical and Demonstration schools for agriculture and holding short-period institutes of a practical nature thro[illegible] State.

22. Preparation of Educational statistics as a matter of yearly routine on the model of what is done in Philippines with a view to determine the actual results of education and its sociological effects.

23. Starting a school of House[illegible] Industries at each District centre or even Taluq centre.

24. Adopting in our Technical schools the plan of instruction followed in the Philippines school of arts and trades and improving them by placing them under such foreign experts as have produced such wonderful results in the Philippines.

25. A vigorous propoganda for spreading knowledge of Commercial Ethics and the importance of commercial morality.

26. Opening of agricultural schools at least one in each taluq and maintaining Demonstration Farms and itinerant agricultural teachers.

27. The rural school House should be made the centre of all rural activities. The commercial Museum should be lodged there and efforts must be made to develop social life with the school house as the centre.

28. Public libraries cannot be of much service until Vernacular literature of modern interest ~~is~~ has sprung up, which is next to impossible under the present system of education. Supplying English books for the educated people who are most of them officials is to reproduce the form of the Western system without its substance.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

1. Local Educational Boards, if constituted, should be empowered to borrow money to improve education.

2. Taluqs and other localities including municipalities, should grant scholarships for technical, agricultural, and medical education [illegible] return and set up business in their native locality for as many years as they were in the enjoyment of the scholarship. Securities must be taken to enforce this measure. Similar provision should be made in the case of the State scholars, and their salary and prospects fixed beforehand. Individual bargaining afterwards leads to discontent and inefficiency.

3. Maintaining permanent Exhibits of local products and manufactures in the different centres.

4. In the larger towns conversational schools for Indian and European languages may be organised.

5. Local Government may be developed on the model of the French system which seems to combine in an admirable degree the two principles of Bureaucratic centralisation and Local Autonomy.

6. Expenses of local improvements such as extensions in the cities should be charged to the property benefited as in Canada.

7. Prevention of Bossism and patriarchism in local Government, by (a) a regulation that no Commissioner should be eligible to serve for more than two continuous periods. (b) Tempering the ward system of election by allowing the city as a whole to elect a certain number of Commissioners. (c) Holding each Commissioner personally responsible for mismanagement.

mismanagement.

8. Schools in cities should be under a separate Education Board elected by the Citizens.

9. Associating with the District Magistrate and also with the Amildar one or two non-officials, elected or nominated, without portfolio for some years, at any rate, on the plan suggested by Mr. Gokhale, a plan which, in a more thorough-going form is in successful operation in the Philippines.

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

1. Institution of professional examinations for all clerkships on the model of the English system.

2. Maintaining in co-operation with Merchant princes and other Indian States, Exhibits of Indian products and manufactures in foreign countries.

3. Organising a special bank to help the agriculturist and the smaller manufacturer by long-period loans at slightly higer rates of interest than the ordinary banks charge recoverable by instalments (4) Improving the commercial credit by getting the better type of merchants and manufacturers to organise themselves into Guilds on the Japanese model.

5. The state should undertake pioneer work of starting unfamiliar industries, but may hand them over after the experimental period to private companies.

6. Public Works Departments should be charged with the duty of seeing that the contractors treat workmen properly and pay them fair wages.

7. Including in the Government one or two noted public leaders, whether from the State or outside, on the model of what is done in the British territory and all over the world in order to temper the Bureaucratic regime and inform it to the

MAHARAJA'S COLLEGE,

MYSORE.

Dated 1st [illegible]er 1915.

Dear Sir,

Herewith I send the abstract list of suggestions.

It is not possible to give reference to pages until the report is printed; reference to the typed copy would not be of any use, as the copy is here.

Yours sincerely,

C. R. Reddy

P. C. D'Souza, Esq.,

Bangalore.

E D U C A T I O N.

1. Reform of Universities on the lines already indicated in my various notes on the University Scheme.

2. Organisation of the Extension system.

3. Private peoples or officials in Government departments to be allowed to lecture at the University for a small salary, if of approved qualifications on their special subjects.

4. Compulsory physical or vocational education throughout the entire educational ~~career~~ course including college departments.

5. Lessening the strain on mind and body by largely substituting Vernacular for English.

6. More Local Autonomy in Education, in which case, the schools in each Taluq or District should be placed under specially elected local Educational Boards, and not under the general District and Taluq Boards.

7. The correlation of museums with school work.

8. Medical care of school children and more attention to School hygiene.

9. Institution of departments of social study and public and municipal administration in the Universities.

10. Converting our present schools into composite institutions, doing Evening and Day work and giving instruction in both general and vocational education on the model of the Borough Schools in London.

11. Making teaching an optional branch in the School-Final, Intermediate, and B.A., courses.

12. Employment of supervising teachers in each taluq

to improve the quality of Elementary Teachers and also for vocational subjects like needle-work, and Domestic Science.

13. Instituting different grades of normal training, covering periods of different length, so that short-period trained men may be available for appointments as teachers in the lower schools.

14. Making vocational training a compulsory course in the curricula for normal training in all grades.

15. Preparing books on the various courses to be taught in the Elementary and Lower Secondary grades and for vocational and commercial purposes with special reference to Mysore conditions.

16. A general reform of schools on the model of what has been done in the Philippines which is based on such principles as early specialisation and the opening of courses for teaching, farming, business, house-keeping and house-hold arts right from the ~~beginning~~ Lower Secondary grades.

17. Holding vacation assemblies of teachers and treating attendance at these assemblies as duty entitling teachers to Privilege leave on full pay.

18. Starting by private people of a Loan Fund to aid students. The interest charged should be small, but the students must be required to pay back when they begin to earn their livelihood so as to discourage pauperisation.

19. Utilisation of some of the properties of Mutts and temples for purposes of education.

20. Starting associations for physical culture.

21. Travelling Technical and Demonstration schools for agriculture and holding short-period institutes of a practical nature thro[illegible] State.

22. Preparation of Educational statistics as a matter of yearly routine on the model of what is done in Philippines with a view to determine the actual results of education and its sociological effects.

23. Starting a school of House[illegible] Industries at each District centre or even Taluq centre.

24. Adopting in our Technical schools the plan of instruction followed in the Philippines school of arts and trades and improving them by placing them under such foreign experts as have produced such wonderful results in the Philippines.

25. A vigorous propoganda for spreading knowledge of Commercial Ethics and the importance of commercial morality.

26. Opening of agricultural schools at least one in each taluq and maintaining Demonstration Farms and itinerant agricultural teachers.

27. The rural school house should be made the centre of all rural activities. The commercial Museum should be lodged there and efforts must be made to develop social life with the school house as the centre.

28. Public libraries cannot be of much service until Vernacular literature of modern interest ~~is~~ has sprung up, which is next to impossible under the present system of education. Supplying English books for the educated people who are most of them officials is to reproduce the form of the Western system without its substance.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

1. Local Educational Boards, if constituted, should be empowered to borrow money to improve education.

2. Taluqs and other localities including municipalities, should grant scholarships for technical, agricultural, and medical education [illegible] return and set up business in their native locality for as many years as they were in the enjoyment of the scholarship. Securities must be taken to enforce this measure. Similar provision should be made in the case of the State scholars, and their salary and prospects fixed beforehand. Individual bargaining afterwards leads to discontent and inefficiency.

3. Maintaining permanent Exhibits of local products and manufactures in the different centres.

4. In the larger towns conversational schools for Indian and European languages may be organised.

5. Local Government may be developed on the model of the French system which seems to combine in an admirable degree the two principles of Bureaucratic centralisation and Local Autonomy.

6. Expenses of local improvements such as extensions in the cities should be charged to the property benefited as in Canada.

7. Prevention of Bossism and patriarchism in local government, by (a) a regulation that no Commissioner should be eligible to serve for more than two continuous periods. (b) Tempering the ward system of election by allowing the city as a whole to elect a certain number of Commissioners.
(c) Holding each Commissioner personally responsible for mismanagement.

mismanagement.

8. Schools in cities should be under a separate Educational Board elected by the Citizens.

9. Associating with the District Magistrate and also with the Amildar one or two non-officials, elected or nominated, without portfolio for some years, at any rate, on the plan suggested by Mr. Gokhale, a plan which, in a more thorough-going form is in successful operation in the Philippines.

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

1. Institution of professional examinations for all clerkships on the model of the English system.

2. Maintaining in co-operation with Merchant princes and other Indian States, Exhibits of Indian products and manufactures in foreign countries.

3. Organising a special bank to help the agriculturist and the smaller manufacturer by long-period loans at slightly higer rates of interest than the ordinary banks charge recoverable by instalments (4) Improving the commercial credit by getting the better type of merchants and manufacturers to organise themselves into Guilds on the Japanese model.

5. The state should undertake pioneer work of starting unfamiliar industries, but may hand them over after the experimental period to private companies.

6. Public Works Departments should be charged with the duty of seeing that the contractors treat workmen properly and pay them fair wages.

7. Including in the Government one or two noted public leaders, whether from the State or outside, on the model of what is done in the British territory and all over the world in order to temper the Bureaucratic regime and wishes to [illegible]
